many. These are either the dissolution of the empire into the separate states existing previous to the federation, or the assumption of the payments of the reduced reparations by spproximately 1000 Germans who own practically everything in the country.

It is understood that the city bankers assured the German capitalists of their readiness to guarantee payment if the men, in whose hands the wealth of Germany lies, pledge themselves sincerely to pay the indemnity and offer reasonable security for their intentions.

Experts agree that 30 per cent of Germany's wealth is in the hands of fewer than a thousand men, with a few leaders like Stinnes commanding half that amount alone.

If the federation of German states, proclaimed at Versailles in 1871 and confirmed by the Weimar constitution of 1919, is repudiated, the empire will be replaced by Prassia, East Prussia, Bavaria, Saxony, Hesse, Wurtemburg, Baden and a dozen other small states and principalities.

Many leading Germans believe that the Austrification of Germany may lead to the practical cancellation of the claims for renarations, as the Allies generally agree that they were unable to obtain an indemnity from either Austria or Hungary.

The English oppose the dissolution of the German empire since it would leave France the predominant power in Europe, and they are therefore urging the holders of Germany's wealth to pay the reparations which the government is unable to pay, promising to obtain a material reduction of the total sum or to split with France if M. There is a great and highly pertinent truth, my friends, in that single assertion. It is public will, not public force, that makes for enduring peace. And is it not a gratifying circumstance that it has fallen to the lot of us North Americans, living amicably for more than a century, under different flags, to present the most striking example yet produced of that basic fact? If only European countries would heed the leason conveyed by Canada and the United States they would strike at the root of their own continuing disagreements and, in their own prosperity, forget to inveigh constantly at ours.

MY HUSBAND DIED I must sell my beautiful lot in Glendale, where we intended to build our home. We looked all over Los Angeles for six months before we bought this panoramic view lot, located in the best restrict-ed residential section on a good wide street. It has several beautiful trees on it and a 50-ft. frontage. It is close to the cars, schools, churches and an easy walk to the center of Glendale's business dis-trict, is only 9 blocks from the new $600,000 Security Bank building. But I am willing to sacrifice and will sell it for about 1/2 the regular market price of today, for a quick sale. Address to WIDOW, D, Box 97, Times Office

MAILS SHUTS OUT ANGELS SAGRE

Oaks Trim Seraphs by 1-to-0 Score; Acorn Dealer Allows But Two Bingles

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

Los Angeles and Oakland yesterday turned in ohe of the cleanest score sheets seen here in recent weeks.

The Oaks not only trimmed the Angels, 1 to 0, but Walter Mails, added to the bitterness of the dose by letting the home guard down with two hits, only one of them clean.

Elmer Ponder also twirled excellent ball, although not as perfect a puzzle as the Oakland southpaw. He lost in the ninth through an error and a poorly played single which rolled far afield for a triple, letting in the winning run.

Mails was solvable only in the seventh. In that round Sandow Griggs singled to center for the only open and above-board Loss Angeles hif of the day. Carroll drove to, Brubaker, who hustled the ball into a double play. McCabs then scratched an infield hif, and was sniped trying to kidnap second.

Ponder was touched for eight hits, but three of them were soapy. Johnson was bad medicine for the Angels. He was hitting in crescendo form. He started with a single, enlarged to a double and his climateric clout was that winning triple.

Two had been retired in ninth when that barren waste on the scoreboard sprouted a run. Arlett led off with a grounder to Krug and was waylaid at first. Ray Brubaker drove to the same party, and this time Marty added the grounder. But the error was regarded as nullified when Baker Thuis there was a runner on first instead of three down. Johnson picked out one of the sort which he prefers and slammed it to left.

Vinny Richards Badly Injured in Auto Crash

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.)
NEW YORK, July 26.—Vincent Richards of Yonkers, third ranking player in the country, is out of the player in the country, is out of the Metropolitan lawn tennis championship at the Crescent A. C. as the result of an automobile accident, which will probably keep him out of competition until the beginning of the Southampton tournament the week of August S. Early Wednesday morning a taxi in which Richards was riding, skidded on Fifth avenue and hit a telegraph pole.

upper part of his leg was literally laid open. It was a veritable alaughterhouse scene. Pinelli, of course, was forced to retire, but he was by no means paniestricken.

The abock of such an injury is terrific. But Babe completed the play before taking an inventory of the damages. Pinelli really had more fighting instinct than baseball ability. Had he taken up puglilism instead of baseball he might have been a champion. He whipped some good men in the Coast circuit in clubhouse encounters.

Babe didn't pick his opponenta, as shown one day when he swung at Bill Guthrie. Bill was a behemoth, just about twice as large as Babe. He removed his chin out of the way, then grabbed Pinelli by the wrist, plaioned him as one would a child. Swinging at umpires is bad business, and proves nothing. Usually the ump is older and smaller. Babe picked out the largest in the league.

Firpo's master."

"I made that declaration in good faith and I stick to my opinion. Willard is the better man of the two so far as pugilistic ability is concerned. If the former champion wants to fight he can defeat the South American."

the reported neuritis ailment from which Willard was suffering?"

"I was led to believe that Willard was afflicted. It has come to me during the past few days that the complaint was imaginary because during his latest training sessions Willard showed no ill effects and his performances made me confident he would easily defeat Firpo. If Willard was suffering from neuritis he seemed to forget the ailment as he went through his work at the Columbus Sporting Club immediately prior to the fight. That story may have been part of a prearranged alibi, which Willard concocted in order to make his defeat appear inevitable. If there was any dickering to throw the fight I was not in on the know, but on the contrary I was placed in a disadvantageous position. While Willard grabbed the big loser's end he left the nasty work of explaining to me. I have always opposed the hapding of big sums to losers. There was no such thing in the old days. Then the system was win or take a beating and go broke. Had Willard been faced with this situation, he probably would have made an effort to get up and continue the scrap and then again he might not have gone to the mat. An easy $150,000 is nice balm for a fadeout especially at Willard's age. The sooner the boxing commission takes

Culver City Meeting Looks Like a Surety

Manager Ferris Expects to Open December 1

Many of East's Best Horses to Perform Here

BY ED O'MALLEY
The thrilling patter of flying bangtails, a sound so dear to the hearts of racing fans, bids fair to be heard in the cellulofd precincts of Culver City next December 1.

friends.'
Manager Ferris points with pride to the fact that the course can be reached on the Pacific Electric line from Hill street in eighteen minutes, the cars parallelling the course, in fact the track is on the main line. Many smooth auto roads lead to the plant. The accommodations for parking are almost faultless.

RUN 100 DAYS

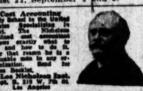

No harness meeting will be given until next spring and this meeting will be conducted during dates that will not conflict with others in Scuthern California. It is Ferris's intention to run at least 100 days. With many of the best horses from the east and Middle West competing for the big prizes that are to be offered; with the grandest winter weather in the world for the reign of the merry bangtails, and over one million people to draw from, the Southern California Jockey Club (name of the Culver City racing association) feels confident that the racing of thoroughbreds in this picrious land can be carried on successfully.

The spacious grand stand will seat about $0.00 people while the big lawrs in front of the stand and clubnouse will furnish ample room for as many more. In case of a bumper attendance the polo and golf grounds in the immense infield can be brought into requisition. From present indications it really looks as if the Southern California Jockey Club will make a pretentious bid for public approval on next December 1.

The Twentieth Century Limited the New York Central has been with us so long that reference to it elicis little comment ordinarily.

"Yet it is a magnificent institution even when compared with other marvels modern transportation, has made wonderful record for itself and its man agement, and has brought deep satisfaction to the multitude of men women who have used it in the for runs in both directions between Nov York and Chicago.

"When first projected the enterprise was viewed by the general public mus in the light of an expensive expensive ment, a publicity promoting affair. For it to stop would now be considered national calamity."

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK (BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DEPARTM) LAUSANNE, July 26. — Ameri-

The clause does not provide the slightest real protection for foreigners against the capricious Turkish justice, but the complete Allied surrender on this point made american acceptance of the new regime inevitable. The Allies held out for weeks for the Montagna formula under which the Turkish police could not arrest a foreigner nor search nor seize his house without their case against him being approved by the foreign legal advisers to the Turkish government.

That the city has become a jobbing center is shown by unusually heavy trucking traffic to Globe and postoffice has known an increase number of parcels mailed.

CHARITY CONSIDERED

CHARITY CONSIDERED

The city budget of Phoenix calls for expendity; e this year of $878,-239, of which $579,284 must be raised by direct taxation, at the raised by direct taxation, at the raise of $1.28 per $100 of valuation. This rate is 29 cents under last year's levy.

Difficulty found in making an appropriation for charities was bridged by the creation of a board of charities, through which the Maricopa County Weitare League will get $5000, the Salvation Army $375 and the Day Nursery $600.

The Chamber of Commerce will get $2400 and $2500 will be ready toward the cost of an aviation field should an air mail line be routed this way between El Paso and Los Angeles.

The Turks are also strongly resisting the claim for duty-free products for educational, religious and charitable missions, because they privately admit that they intend to try to expel from Turkey some American organizations which devote themselves to helping the Armenians and the Greeks.

tures in the form of a petition in the latest regular session of Parliament. A total of $0,000 signatures are necessary under the law. There was naught for the Legislature to do under the circumstances but direct that the bill be placed before the people of the province of Manitoba for referendum.

It carried last month by a 46,000 majority, after a similarly proffered bill to legalize jubile drinking places was defeated by an even larger majority.

Now, having been demanded by the people, in this manner, the Moderation Act goes back to the Legislatur. It passes upon the legality of the measure from the standpoint of its relation to existing laws. Then it goes to Ottawa for the signature of Lieut.-Gov. Alkens who has not the power of veto such as held by the President of the United States. As soon as the Lieutenant-Governor signs the bill he issues a proclamation announcing that in thirty days this measure becomes a law, in the province of Manitobs.

In Quebec a purchaser may go to a provincial liquor store, managed by the provincial liquor commission, buy a bottle of which he prefers and carry it home.

He is not permitted to drink it on the premises. In British Columbia it is delivered to his homeor hotel room.

TO MAKE DELIVERIES

The Manitoba bill provides for a commission of three members to regulate the sale of liquor. That commission alone may import and sell liquor and wine, although breweries may deliver beer to purchasers' homes. One will not walk into a Manitoba liquor commission store and walk out with his liquor. He will piace an order for his liquor and it will be delivered to his home or hotel.

To purchase liquor one must first have a permit—which will cost its a year. This applies alike to citizens and transients. Thus the commission will profit two waysfrom the sale of liquor and from the issuance of permits.

Pity the thirsty one who has his permit revoked. He, by law, will not be able to beg, borrow, buy or steal—theoretically—"a snifter."

TITLED BRITON IS CHICAGO VISITOR

CANADIAN RAIL HEAD SPEAKS FOR GOVERNMENT OWN-ERSHIP

CHICAGO, July 36.—Sir Henry W. Thornton, born in Logansport, Ind., the home of Judge Landis, was a visitor in Chicago today. He is a member of the British nobility, with a fine record in the World War. He is president of the Canadian National Railway and was accompanied here by a party of officials of that system.

"Government ownership of railways has proved a success in Canadia," he said. "The Canadian National Railway earned $15,000,000 last year. The road was in frightful shape in 1918 and the government had to take it over to save it. It is showing a profit this year for the first time. I do not want to discuss government ownership in the United States. That, of course, is your problem.

the United States. That, of course, is your problem.
"Europe is in bad shape. It must be stabilized in order to balance the entire world. The League of Nations cannot function well without the participation of the United States."

Sir Henry was amazed at the changes in Chicago since he was here years ago, at that time connected with the Pennsylvania system. His party came in over the Northwestern and departed this evening for Toronto.

Stabilizing Influences Felt in Building Industries

Credit Conditions an Index to Future Security

(Copyrigh, 1922, Public Ledges.)

CHICAGO, July 26.—Appraisals of the business situation as a whole continue to discomfit the peasimists. This class contents itself by selecting for emphasis any phase of the situation that shows distress or recession. But distress is only a phase. There is much to study and analyze. Study, analysis and resultant conservation have kept the onward business march from becoming a headlong-rish.

Undoubtedly, the experience of three years ago brought caution into business conduct, but business men have also been the objectives of much sound economic preaching. They have had information, accurate knowledge of statistical frends, valuation of international relationships and the variety of news and opinions that goes to make up the sum of a situation.

In the many lines of business activity, the building trades stand out as an illustration of what might have happened in all and the corrective influences that operated to save the one from disaster. What is known as the building trades is probably the most scattered and diversified of all industries. It has many subdivisions, each devoted to a line of effort; for instance, office buildings, apartments and apartment hotels, real-dences, bridges, roads, etc. The trade has great geographical extent and varying customs and conditions to meet. It calls for a vast variety of materials and many kinds of labor—engineering, skilled and common.

It is not organized and operates independently or, at hest and common.

It is not organised and operates independently or, at best, sectionally. The demand for its services springs spontaneously from all parts of the country. In some respects it is the mostly highly localized of industries and in others it is most far-reaching. Brick and stone cannot be hauled great distances and lumber can be. Cement soften carried far, but sand it not.

Whatever else may have shown and however it may have been interpreted the credit position has emained constant and sound-there were a few days in May when doubt of the ability of busiess to go on might have been leid. The conduct of the stock narket shook the faith of many ten of conservative views. It alsed a fear of the correctness of their interpretations, but sufficient time has now elapsed to permit toking back.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Business Shows Few Seasonal Vagaries; Growth of Federal Reserve Activities; Machine Banking

Business is showing a few seaonal tendencies toward calm, feit as usual, to a leaser degree in Lea Angeles than almost anywhere else in the country. There is considerable conversation: a good many vagations are under way, and there is some inclination to defer new commitments for a few weeks, new commitments for a few weeks, commercial suspensions are few; canceled orders in volume are absent, and activity in retail lines is well sustained. Building shows few signs of material diminution: bank which indicates a tremendous trade turnover every day; resorts are crowded, and the spending power of the public is higher than it was a year ago.

Railrogia are handling extraordinary volumes of traffic, and pushing added officence of confidence in the business outlook. The coming harvest is large enough to provide fall buying activity in many lines ance of imports over amports show; ance of imports over amports how; some of our debtors getting into a position to repay war borrowings.

Altogether the midsummer outlook is very satisfactory and there is no present reason to expect any thing other than the desired that the total of the Tweifth Federal Reserve Bank has been also and the research and the re

It is stated that an average of 100,000 checks now are being handled every banking day by the Los Angeles branch, as compared with 15,000 a day, the average diring the period immediately following the opening of the institution.

Cheek collections during April, the last month for which a tabulation has been made, totaled 2,430,000. This compares with 1,444,000 for the Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco, 512,000 for the Salt Lake branch; 470,000 for Seattle; 321,000 for Portiand, and 327,000 for the Spokane branch.

Union Laying Moorings

The Union Oil Company has a steamer at Ventura, laying moorings in the harbor. Three of these will be laid. The expense is being borne by the Union Company, but other companies will, it is said, materially benefit by the improvement because they will have access to the moorings while loading their steamers with oil for coastwise

There are two distinct taxes which must be considered before your estate can be distributed to your heirs. One is the Federal Estate Tax; the other, the State Inheritance Tax.

The Federal Estate Tax is levied on estates of $50,000 and over.

The State inheritance Tax varies according to who receives the bequest. Each state has individual laws in this regard. Amounts as low as $500 may be assessed, and the tax varies from one to thirty-five per cent.

Rulings governing payment of these taxes are matters of law. You can closely approximate the amount your estate must pay before death, by consulting our legal department. This will not obligate you, and may save excessive expense.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

An outbreak of enthusiasm that spread throughout the oil list, reviving several issues that had been dormant for some time, brought trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday out of the desidrums. Revisions in the price levels were minor, but the dealing was actively conducted.

A good demand developed for General Petroleum common, which sold down from 31 1-2 to a final price of 30 5-8. Mt. Diablo Oil moved actively around 45 cents and closed at 42. Central Oil struck a high of 80 cents, and made the day at 74. Union Oil of California sold at 103 1-2, and standard Oil of California at 50. Shell Union executions were made around 15 1-2. United Oil warrants were quoted at $1.00.

Mining trading was relatively ouled. Oatman United was taken at 8 cents, and Gold Dust at 30 1-2. Virginia Louise closed at 41-2.

The position of the raw sugar market was an easy affair today and the business recently done at $1-4 cents cash and freight seemed to have passed for the time being. There were reports of libral offerings at this basis but the best bids were around $1-3 cents. Porto Ricos and Philippines were available around 7.02 cents. Refiners were not seeking material on the former basis for the reason that consumers would not pay more than $3.0 cents for the granulated. Sales reported were 10.000 bags Cuban raws at $2-16 cents c.i.f. for prompt shipment to a New Orleans rafiner and $500 bags for the first half of August shipment to a refiner at the same basis.

Demand for refined sugar was much smaller today, and the general selling schedule averaged from $3.56 $5.75 cents was continued. There was less belief at the close that the seller would advance the schedule to meet other producers. Trade was moderate throughout the essesion and business was generally local. The market settled finally 2 to 13 points higher.

EL CENTRO, July 26 .- County members of the board expressing the belief that the plan would prove economical for the county. The auditor refused to pay the salary of the purchasing agent, contending that would work an increase of the County Clerk's salary. A friendly suit was then filed by Mousseau demanding that the auditor pay the salary which amounts to 55e a month.

Judge Conkling in his decision ruled that the additional compensation as purchasing agent was not an increase in salary such as is prohibited by the Constitution during tenure of office.

Manuel Martinez was convicted by a jury today at his second trial on the charge of having possession of eleven bottles of whisky which the Sheriff found in a stove at the Martinez place at Imperial. Bowl Concerts Returns Home Constantly Grow in Attraction

The Hollywood Bowl Symphony is getting better and better night by night in every way. A finer balance in tonal color and a more perfect union of instrumentation are being achieved under the baton of Emil Oberhoffer. The climaxes are being painted in more vivid has, and there is more freedom in the handling of tempos.

The orchestra, to a man, follows beautifully the quick changes from the dramatic to the lyric style, speaking first with positive conviction, and again in the same breath with pleading tenderness. This was evident last night, especially in the Brahm's Hungarian Dances.

The first one, the G minor, opened this group, Following this the sixth was played.

After police of Baldwin Park and searched for his body since the 3rd inst., and searched for his body sanct and for maintenance work in Los Angeles Harbor was announced to. day at the War Department. The money comes from the rive mand for maintenance work in Los Angeles Harbor was announc where more startling or frequent and complete changes of tempo occur than in this compelling gypsy dance.

Not exactly in a tempo rubato which really follows certain lews of accelarando and ritard, this flashing dance sparietes with brilliancy for a moment, and then reposes in graceful swells of tone or on luscious chords, to be away again in a presio tempo with the next phrase. The F minor, or Pifth, closed this set.

Laura May Lamport won for herself something of an ovation in the coloratura "Travistas" (Verdi) aris. She repeated the last part. Her voice is lyric in quality, flexible and pleasing. She sings with excellent finish and interprets her numbers in a musicianly way and with authority.

A fine rendition of the rugged Norwegian "Homage March" from Griegs" "Sigurd Jorsalfar" suite was the effective last number.
One of the most interesting pleces was Oberhoffer's own arrangement of the little Dvorak "Humoresque."

He has instrumented this in such a variety of instruments. He has added a chromatic or rather altered and transposed treatment of the melody which leads to a delightful cadenza taken by solo violin.

Then Swanee River" is played for a few bars, with the "Humoresque" melody forming a rather contrapuntal background.
One could revel forever in the libueliness of the Goldmark Program Symphony, of which all four movements (contrary to the program symphony, of which all four movements (contrary to the program symphony, of which all four movements (contrary to the program symphony, of which all four movements (contrary to the program symphony, of which all four movements (contrary to the program symphony, of which all four movements (contrary to the program opened with the "Stradella" overture by Flotow.

The last-minute rush on the part of the public to see the Mot Ploture Exposition and Monroe Doctrine Centennial before is closes gan last night when one of the largest crowds since the exposition opened poured into the Colliseum. About 30,000 people were in the boundaries. State Attempts to Show Oesterreich Was Alone With has been put on to handle crowds. The wrinkle in doing Wife at Time of Slaying

With swift, bold strokes the prosecution yesterday attempted to tear down the suppositional defense of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, whose hearing is now being conducted on a charge of murder in con-nection, with the death of her wealthy husband, Fred Oesterreich, that the shooting was done by burglars who had invaded their home at 858 North Andrews Boulevard. before Justice Baird in the courtroom of Judge Wood, has not reached its dramatic climax, and will probably continue into next week.

By a process of elimination Chief Trial Deputy Fitts and Dep. Dist. Atty Clark sought yesterday to show that Mrs. Cesterreich was alone in the house when her husband was shot and that he was killed while trying to escape his slayer. That Mrs. Cesterreich was pretending an unconscious condition when found was a contention advanced by the State.

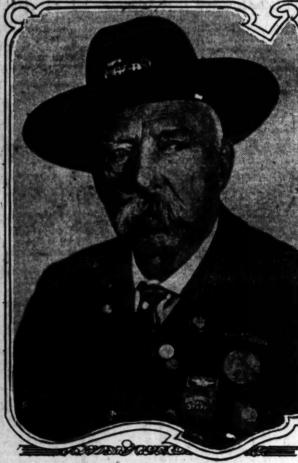

The prosecution attorneys are seeking by their witnesses to convince Justice Baird that Mrs. Cesterreich turned on her husband when they entered their home after an evening of pleasure, fired one shot which pierced his breast and, pursuing him to the front door, where he fell, fired two more shots, each of which took a downward course through his body. In addition, Mr. Fitts sets forth that the accused woman screamed:

"Fred, ch. Fred!" as a pretense, hid the weapon, turned off several lights, retreated to the closet, locked lights and avaited rescue. Dr. Harold A. Wright, a chirch in the next time living near the Cesterreich home, cettified that he was one of the party which entered the house officers. He sating declared that he was one of the party which entered the house officers. The wrinkle in doing the exposition apparently is to go early in the evening take a turn through the educational motion-picture exhibits, the industrial show, take digner on the grounds and wind up with the big show in the Collesum. Yesterday was designated as Ban Fernando Day and Swedish Day. A large delegation of San Fernando people were on hand to put on their stuff and enjoy the exposition. Mrs. Norton described with great length the events as they were observed from her angle of observation. This Detective Lifettenant Herman Cline declares, was Oesterreich fleeing from his assailant. The witness said she heard a woman suream in the house and later observed a light gleam in an upstairs window. Fifteen minutes after the shots, Mrs. Norton testified, the porchight was extinguished, and soon a dull pounding sounded from the Oesterreich home. the owners of lands which are leased to drillers would universally and simultaneously agree to extend the time of drilling and change the terms of their various contracts, and the oil men who have the leases would take advantage of such extension it would check, to some extent, the tendency toward overproduction.

"In some sections this cannot be done, but in others it might very well be applied to advantage. The desire to drill wells and get immediate production is not always responsible for the feverishness with which drilling goes on. The desire is that of holding one's own share of the oil below the surface.

"This impulse atimulates lessors and lessees to develop rapidly in the vicinity of any big new well. If the owners of a big new well which opens up considerable new area could be persuaded to shut the well in, and the adjoining lessors and lessees could agree to not drill so long as such well were shut in, it would evade the congestion which results from competitive drilling in such localities, and would do no harm to anyone, but rather good by conserving the oil until needed and better prices obtained.

"At the expiration of the period agreed upon all parties could resume operations with the same economic relation to each other as that which existed at the time of the shutdown.

To do this the lessors would have to agree with the lessors that they need not drill according to the terms of their contracts until the congestion has been relieved. An extension of six months on all such contracts should be given.

BOY SCOUT DAY

The firemen's exhibition of handling fires and leaping into life nets from a five-story building is proving to be one of the most spectagular events on the big program of the exposition. Bill a Strothers, climber for Harold Lloyd in "Satety Last," climbed the tower yesterday.

Today is Los Angeles Harbord Day and Boy Scout Day. The official uniform will pass any Scout into the exposition grounds free. Chief of Police Oaks will be the great of the Exchange Club, which will have its regular meeting at Brandstater's Cafe. Over 200 have made reservations. The Optimist' Club will dine at the Montmartre Gardens today. The Police Band will furnish the music. The exposition management announced last night that exhibition tickets will be honored up to and including Saturday, July 28.

The increasing popularity of the free program conducted each afternoon in the woman's auditorium at the Motion Picture Exposition was evidenced yesterday, according to exposition officials, by the largest attendance yet to be recorded at one of these features.

An address upon "Citizenship," by Dr. Woelner of the University of California; a musicale, presented

FIRE DRILL POPULAR
One of the most educational and interesting features to be introduced by the management of the exposition is the fire drill, given daily at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. near the south gate of the exposition grounds. A SOCIAD ROUND-UP

Chicago police raided the most fashionable cafe and dancing pavilion in that city and herded more than forty gorgeously gowned women and eighty of the leading pusiness men in patrol wagons for transport to the jail. From a social standpoint the cream of the city was rounded up and the indignation which arose from the swelling bosoms of the elite spreads like a wave over the whole city. No one seems to be exactly sure what the raid was about, although wine was thought to have been served on various occasions. But that the socially elect should be forcibly seized by the police and dragged off to the hoogow on this suspicion is carrying espionage too far. At least one of the grand dames insist that it is too much and if the new Mayor is in anywise to blame she will yet have his political scalp for a footstool. In the meantime charges of graft and blackmail are being treely bandled. The raid is declared to be a spite affair, directed by police because of a refusal to pay for "protection." There is a possibility of there being more scandal than has already been divulged. In the meantime the police records of Chicago's swelldom have been materially extended.

WHAT OF ALASKA?

What of Allacka, has made himself personally acquainted with that vast domain that will some time be divided into half a dozen States, that will go far to establish tife balances. ance between the Atlantic and Pacific

Like California, Alaska made its debut as mineral territory. The gold in its mountains and streams was the lure that called tains and streams was the ture that called thousands to the trails where the muck was studded with the precious yellow metal and where death lurked in the shadows. After the gold-seekers came the colonists.

After the gold-seekers came the colonists. The streams were alive with salmon and in the mountains were vast deposits of coal. Added to this was a vast agricultural area, whose development has just begun. And, as the East becomes progressively overcrowded, an outlet for surplus population as well as thousands of acres of food-producing territory is found in a domain that was purchased for less than the present value of a single one of its mineral properties.

some of them feel that the Federal government is not doing its part; that it too often hampers in the place of helping.

The President took with him Secretaries Hoover, Wallace and Work. They have heard the pleas of the residents for further Federal aid and their protests against existing conditions. The President took occasion at one of the conferences to give the Alaskans some wholesome advice. He said:

happiness. What do we live for? For compensations of friendships, delights of within and happiness and contentment at home.

You have all these in Alaska, as much as any people in the world. I have a suspicion that most of the complaint which comes from Alaska must come from those who are commercially disposed, who desire to acquire more than the average share of this world's goods and then take it somewhere else.

From this day forth my official, as well as my personal, interest in Alaska will be in those who are trying to make a real empire of Alaska and who intend to abide in the empire which they helped to create.

All of which proves that the President and Alaska will play a prominent part in the future development of the republic. It is too vast an empire to be admitted to State-hood as a single bloc; and division will reied Woodrow Wilson to several European capitals. President Harding in his m will journey wheresoever affairs of its shall call.

Alaska will play a prominent part in the future development of the republic. It is too vast an empire to be admitted to State-hood as a single bloc; and division will come as one part after another is sufficiently developed to take its place as a sovereign State. When that is done the representation of the Pacific Coast in the national government will be equal to that of the Atlantic

Considering this area as a whole, there is a developed water supply for but a comparatively small portion of it—possibly 1,500,000 acres. Fortunately most of the lands susceptible of irrigation are in a section having an almost year-around growing season and the remainder has the climate and soil to produce a high grade of fruits so that the total value of possible crops will be up to that produced on an equal area of lands in Northeastern United States or Eastern Canada; and it is possible that when the coast region of Southern California becomes densely settled the demand for foodstuffs on the "hot-house" sections of the desert will be so great that their crops will rival in value those of the leading States tain sides of the desert seem devoid of pow-er to sustain animal life, but a close ob-server like Vernon Balley says (Scientific onthly, July, 1923:)

The well-known fact that our driest deserts are abundantly populated with animal life has caused much surprise and speculation. Insects, reptiles, birds and mammals are generally common and, in varying proportion, often far more numerous than in humid regions of flowing streams and dense vegetation.

The deer, antelope and mountain sheep are often found in local abundance. The sms er carrivores—coyotes, cats, skunks, badgers and weasels—are generally present, but the greatest abundance is usually found in the rodents, many groups of which are peculiar-to desert areas. Some of these groups are nighly specialized for desert life and comprise large numbers of specles and subspecies found nowhere else and often found in great numbers in the very dry, hot and barren areas, where there is no open water, no possibility of obtaining subterranean water and where there is often no rain or snew or dew for months or years at a time. Even in the midst of long dry periods these desert animals are found in perfect health and good bodily condition. The young are produced and the mothers seem to have a coplous supply of milk for them as they grow up without a knowledge of what water looks like or that such a thing exists.

Portions of the desert furnish winter pasturage which, when used in connection with that afforded by the surrounding mountains and the alfalfa fields of the watered areas, can sustain many thousands of cattle.

As a mineral-producing region Southeastern California has already gained a good reputation for the production of the metals, in spite of the fact that the great deposits of iron ore are yet untouched. It has held for many years a monopoly in the production of the salines is so great as to be hard to be realized. Two of our great element mills are on the Mojave River. For steam-ship owners or railroad promoters Wrangell Island has no charm. Although at the latiisland has no charm. RIPPLING RHYMES

RUDENESS

My cousin's son, whose name is Frank, was a bitter mood; they just had fired him from the hank, accused of being rude. "My nerves," he said, "were all on edge from working day and night; and up there stepped old Wilhelm Wedgs, a most long, winded wight. He blocked the window, telling yarns that failed to make a hit, and I, with sundry hecks and darns, requested him to flit. He told the president, methinks, who fired me out with sest; I am the victim of a jinx that never takes a rest." "You are the victim of your tongue," I cried, "you flippant knave, and you should strive, while you are young, to make that tongue behave. No youth should talk about his herves or frame a cheap excuse when he has shown some boorish curves and thereby cooked his gooss. Your rudeness makes you seem a dunce, you'll never cut much ice; the village grocer fired you once, the baker fired you twice. Your busy tongue you'll have to school and make it keep its place; politeness is the golden rule that helps man win his race."

Moreover, Wrangell Island is one of the few remaining unattached spots overlooked by the different inheritors of the earth. At any rate, its title has not yet been definitely recorded by any abstract company. Four nations have various hazy claims to it, the United States, Great Britain, Russia and Japan, with others possibly to be heard from.

Plainly, all that mankind knows about science has been learned since the time of Anaximenes. Outside of science, however, many of the fundamental facts upon which our civilisation is founded were discovered and passed on to us by our ancestors. America's greatest ethnologist, L. H. Morgan, went so far as to say that civilisation has resulted, directly and indirectly, from a dozen or more revolutionary inventions and discoveries, each of which enlarged the capacity of the human mind.

Savages invented language; they learned and taught subsequent peoples that sounds and gestures could be used to expand with expression. Savage genius also produced the pointed pols, which in time became the all-conquering spear. Savages discovered and taught mankind how to start a fire, to cook carcasses, to trap and snare wild animals, to obtain salt from tide-washed flats, to weave baskets and fabrics out of grasses and the fibers of pithy plants, to tell time from shadows, to distinguish between medicinal and poisonous herbs, to fake flint into utensils, implements and weapons; to cure akins and fashion them

What Good Is a Breeze When It Isn't Blowing?

Surely you have noticed that it is lack of breezes, more than anything else, that makes a hot day-or a sweltering, sleepless night.

You open the windows and swing wide the doors, and hope for a breeze. It's breezes you need, all right, but that isn't the sure way to get them.

Are you going to suffer and swelter this summer as you have in the past, sitting by a window and hoping for the best? Not if you value health and comfort and a good disposition, you won't! This very minute

If fresh milk can mot be obtained canned milk can be used, for children must have milk in some form. Needless to milk it is not the best milk for children.

Condensed milk is the evaporated milk with the addition of high amounts of cane sugar. Bables fed upon sweetened condensed milk exclusively are fed upon a starvation food so far as the bones and muscles are concerned—for when condensed milk is diluted so that the baby can take it, the protein, fats and mineral elements are too low and it is still too high in sugar. So that while it will make fat bables, they are not strong bables. Sometimes bables that are not doing well on other milks will be benefited for a time upon sweetened condensed milk, and physicians often prescribe it to tide bables over until they can use the fresh milk But if it is continued for any length of time—unless other foods are being given to supply its deficiencies—the bables are very ceedingly apt to get rickets. While they will get fat, they haven't the normal resistance to disease.

The milk powders consist either of whole milk or skimmed milk or which has been deprived of its water. Dried milk has all the food properties of fresh milk except that a large part of the vitamins have been destroyed.

Powdered milk has proved a very satisfactory method of preserving milk. There is a brand of dried milk which is put up under special sanitary conditions and some children's specialists are advising this for bables, when it is difficult to get wholesome fresh milk.

The vitamins of course have to be supplied by the addition of pure spinach, or orange juice or tomato juice or the juice of some other fresh vegetable.
